SWEDISH
ARTSCOUNCIL

The course aims to equip participants with knowledge and methods to increase the opportunities to participate and be part of the cultural public sphere in Sweden, as well as to expand the participants' cultural network. After completing the course, the goal is for the participants to have an overview and understanding of how Swedish cultural life is organized and what is required to participate in artistic contexts in Sweden, and a deeper understanding of their own drive, their motivation, their skills and their previous experiences to be able to actively choose what is a reasonable and suitable way forward to develop the artistic activity.

Nätverkstan is a knowledge center that supports and develops cultural life with extensive experience in implementing shorter and longer educational efforts. Since 1999, we have run Kulturverkstan, a vocational training for international cultural project managers. In various national and international contexts, we have completed shorter training courses such as "The art of living on your art" and "Leading cultural projects".

If you are interested in attending the course, please send us a few lines and tell us why and how you think you could benefit from it (1/2–1 A4 or 2.000–4.000 signs). Deadline for registration September 29th.
